'Men have died from time to time, and worms have eaten them, but not for love...'

So proclaims Rosalind, Shakespeare's strongest, most beloved female character. Her father the duke is banished from court by his usurping brother, and has fled to the Forest of Arden where he lives as an outlaw with his loyal men. Rosalind herself is soon cast from court and seeks her father in the forest. Her courage and wits keep her alive amidst court intrigue and the wilds of Arden, but she faces a new and altogether unexpected challenge when she sets eyes on the young Orlando...

Featuring music, a wrestling match, a murder plot, and several weddings, 'As You Like It' takes the intrigue and romance of a medieval court and sends it out into the wilderness, to hilarious effect. The Ragged Trousered Philanthropist
The Byre Theatre Abbey St, St Andrews, KY16 9LA

Townsend Productions is delighted to announce that it will be staging a new production of Stephen Lowe's critically acclaimed version of Robert Tressell's The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists at the Byre Theatre.

Using instrumentation, songs of the period, movement, physicalisation, comedy and characterisation to create the spirit and clarity of the political message, the play shares with its audience a year in the life of a group of painters and decorators, as they renovate a three-storey town house for Mayor Sweater. It traces their struggle for survival in a complacent and stagnating Edwardian England. These workers are the "philanthropists" who throw themselves into back-breaking work for poverty wages in order to generate profit for their masters

Performed as a two-hander, the production, which coincides with the centenary anniversary of the author's death remains as vivid and as relevant as when it was written almost a century ago, runs.

Robert Tressell's The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists, has become a classic of working-class literature since its first publication in 1914. The themes and style of the piece are eternally relevant and provoking as it puts life and politics into sharp focus in an entertaining and accessible way. What, with a Tory-led coalition government in power, and that the year 2011 is the centenary anniversary of Robert Tressell's death, the company felt it was the right time for this show to be seen on tour nationally. "Passing Through" by Alistair Rutherford

PASSING THROUGH is set on a wet winter's night. At the Dockers Social Club there's been a terrible mistake. They booked 'The Ace of Spades' thinking it was a Motorhead tribute band but they got Tommy the Magician instead. Tommy made a sharp exit and is nursing a pint and a bruised ego in the pub down the road when Alice stomps in from the rain. She's soaked, been stood up and that's it, she's had it for ever with romance.

What neither of them know is that some magic might just be around the corner. Or is true love just another conjuring trick, a sleight of hand?

A new Romantic Comedy by Alistair Rutherford (BBC Radio 4, BBC Radio Scotland) performed cabaret style in The Lawrence Levy Studio.
